

“WHY I SHOULD BE CONSIDERED”

I am a very passionate person when it comes to programming, to me it is the only world that makes sense. Learning and becoming better is my absolute objective I oath to become if not one of the best programmer in the world then to become someone who makes a difference in the world. My background with computers has been a fascinating one, ever since at young age I was always compelled by this world of computers and technology, always eager to find out why and how, I think that is what made me end up learning to write code.

This opportunity will not only provide me with the necessary skills and knowledge but it will also teach me how to collaborate with other programmers and offer me challenges that are necessary for my growth in Tech. I am very capable of achieving great things in life and this opportunity is a door way to that, I think one of the great things about me is having the ability to understand things quicker and being able to use that knowledge to my advantage, of course this does come at a price and that price is time.

In this world I have nothing but time, I value and respect time a lot. In my day to day life I usually learn anything I come across as long as it benefits me in the end. I spend most of my time doing online free courses, doing research, watching how-to videos on YouTube just so I can learn.

I believe this opportunity will change my life and drive me towards my goals and dreams, it would be very much appreciated if I am chosen for this program.
